

Figure 5.3 ABC Transporter Function. (1) The solute binding protein binds the substrate to be transported and approaches the ABC transporter complex. (2) The solute binding protein attaches to the transporter and releases the substrate, which is moved across the membrane with the aid of ATP hydrolysis. See text for details.