

Figure 8.16 Some activator proteins interact with RNA polymerase. (a) The activator binding site is near the promoter. (b) The activator binding site is several hundred base pairs from the promoter. In this case, the DNA must be looped to allow the activator and the RNA polymerase to contact.